● Story name-Terror in the woods of California

★ Long ago, in the woods of California, people in the 1930s century a boy named Alex and his friends Mary and Charlie were in Whythleafe school in California, which was haunted by spooky ghosts. So creepy things started happening last year. People were sinking in quicksand.

★ "I wonder what makes this school so spooky," said Charlie. "I hate spooky stuff," said Mary. "Guys, let's go and investigate," said Alex. "That's a great idea," said Mary and Charlie. So they started walking through the woods of California. Then they walked past the cemetery of California and Mary was scared so she used the path to cross the cemetery. Then they found what was happening.

* "The ghost king wanted to rule over California" said one of the ghosts and they all laughed.
