Speaking

Introduction

Review

Are the following statements about Part 1 True or False? Correct them if they are false. If you need help, read the Task information on page 61.

- 1 In this part of the test, you are encouraged to speak with your partner.
 - 2 Both examiners will ask you questions to help you relax.
 - 3 The questions in this part are on familiar, personal topics.
 - 4 Part 1 lasts about 2 minutes (3 minutes for groups of three candidates).

The interlocutor asks you some questions about yourself, your home, work or studies and familiar topics.

Good morning / afternoon / evening. My name is ... and this is my colleague

And your names are?

Can I have your mark sheets, please?

Thank you.

First of all, we'd like to know something about you.

- Where are you from?
- What do you do here / there?
- How long have you been studying English?
- What do you enjoy most about studying English?

The interlocutor then asks you some questions about one or two other topics, for example:

- Do you think you have enough free time during the week? Why? / Why not?
- What's your favourite weekend activity? Why?
- How do you feel about extreme sports?
- Tell me about a special meal you have recently had.

Main Points

Work in groups of three if possible. One of you is the interlocutor and the other two are the candidates. The interlocutor should lead the task using the script below. Refer to the pictures on pages S7 and S8.

Interlocutor In this part of the test, I'm going to give each of you three pictures. I'd like you to talk about two of them on your own for about a minute, and also to answer a question briefly about your partner's pictures.

[Candidate A], it's your turn first. Here are your pictures. They show people preparing for different events. I'd like you to compare two of the pictures and say what these people might be preparing for and how you think they're feeling.

All right?

⌚ After 1 minute Thank you.

[Candidate B], who do you think will need the longest time to prepare? (Why?)

⌚ After 30 seconds Thank you.

Now, [Candidate B], here are your pictures. They show people showing things to others. I'd like you to compare two of the pictures and say why the people might be showing these things to others and how interested the others might be in what they're being shown.

⌚ After 1 minute Thank you.

Now, [Candidate A], who do you think will remember what they're seeing for the longest time? Why?

⌚ After 30 seconds Thank you.

- What might these people be preparing for?
- How do you think they're feeling?

- Why might the people be showing these things to others?
- How interested might the others be in what they're being shown?

Work in groups of three if possible. One of you is the interlocutor and the other two are the candidates. The interlocutor should lead the task using the script below. Refer to the task sheet on page S9. The candidates should discuss this task sheet together.

Interlocutor Now I'd like you to talk about something together for about two minutes.

Here are some things that people think about when choosing where to live and a question for you to discuss. First you have some time to look at the task.

⌚ After 15 seconds Now, talk to each other about how these things influence people's choices about where to live.

⌚ After 2 minutes Thank you. Now you have about a minute to decide which of these things you think would have the greatest effect on people's daily lives.

⌚ After 1 minute Thank you.

Listening

Introduction

Training Test 1

Listening Part 1

TASK INFORMATION

- Part 1 is a multiple-choice task.
- In Part 1, you will hear three short conversations. The conversations are called Extract One, Extract Two and Extract Three on your question paper and the recording.
- The conversations are about different topics and are not connected to each other in any way.
- The conversations are often between a man and a woman so that you can easily identify the speakers.
- Each conversation is about 1 minute long and you will hear each conversation twice.
- You have to answer two multiple-choice questions on each conversation.
- You have to choose the correct answer, A, B or C.
- You have to answer questions about different things, for example, a detail or the main message of the conversation, how the speaker is feeling or what their attitude to something is. You may also have to answer questions about the speakers' opinions or what they agree about.

Introduction

Exam Practice Test 1

Listening Part 1

ACTION PLAN

- 1 You will have some time to read the questions before you hear the conversations. Use this time to think about what is being tested.
- 2 You may find it useful to underline the most important words in the questions.
- 3 Try to answer the questions when you hear the conversations for the first time.
- 4 Finalise your answers when you hear the conversations for the second time and answer any questions you didn't answer the first time.
- 5 If you're still not sure about the correct answer after you've heard the conversation twice, make a guess.
- 6 At the end of the whole test, you have time to transfer your answers to the answer sheet. Make sure you do this carefully.
